

ATKearney

Pave your own Path. The journey begins here.

We offer full-time positions in our Oslo office

Do you want to start your career in strategic Management Consulting?

At A.T. Kearney we work with the world's leading organizations to achieve lasting, tangible results. Our ambition is to be best – not biggest. With our collaborative and entrepreneurial approach, our consultants learn to create original, bold and implementable plans.

We offer top performers the opportunity to join our growing team of consultants in Stockholm, and be part of a fast paced and dynamic environment.

What You Can Expect

- Client exposure and responsibility from day one working on CEO agenda issues
- Excellent support for your personal growth journey through mentoring and an extensive training program
- International opportunities through A.T. Kearney's Global mobility program

What We Seek

We are looking for talented problem solvers eager to apply their skills as part of our client teams. We encourage you to apply if you possess following qualification

- MSc degree with excellent results
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Strong critical thinking and analytical capabilities
- Forward-thinking and collaborative approach to problem solving
- Fluency in at least one Scandinavian language and English

Learn more and apply via www.atkearney.no/careers. We will review applications on an ongoing basis.